NANO CARBON CERAMIC

Ultragard Matrix features a fused construction of two superior technologies to produce a supremely durable window film that provides outstanding solar performance and long term protection from the harsh Australian sun.

Whether you live in the outback, near the mountains or along Australia's beautiful coastline, Matrix nano-carbon ceramic is the ideal choice when you desire the very best technology has to offer.

Twin nano-carbon layers provide increased heat control, daytime privacy and excellent glare reducing properties with low reflectivity, inside and out. While the advanced ceramic internal layer provides an additional boost of heat filtering performance and UV ray protection.

The insulating properties of Matrix minimises room temperature imbalances and improves comfort all year round. It is a long term energy saving investment that improves air conditioner efficiency leading to reduced running costs and a short payback period.

Matrix is metal-free, Wi-Fi friendly and non-corrosive in coastal or humid environments. It is dye-free, non-fading and provides ultimate solar control performance built to last a lifetime.
